

The Store-Ads Simplify Shopping to the Last Degree. You No Longer "Dread to go to the Stores" After You Have Made Up Your Mind as to What You Want At Each Place.

DESERET EVENING NEWS.

"A Truth Looks Freshest in the Fashion of the Day." The Fashion of the Day for Store-Ads is Display Type With Liberal Space for Picturesque Effect.

TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1905. SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.

FIFTY-SIXTH YEAR.

12 PAGES—LAST EDITION.

LYNCH WILL LEAD THE REPUBLICANS

Chief of Police Nominated by His Party for Mayor of Salt Lake.

WAS CHOSEN BY ACCLAMATION

Convention Poorly Attended in the Morning but Much Improved This Afternoon.

SEVERAL SPIRITED CONTESTS

Resolutions Endorse Roosevelt Administration and Pledge Economy in City Affairs.

The Republican city convention was held in the Salt Lake Theater today. The convention was called for 9:30 a. m. but it was some time after 10 o'clock when City Chairman F. C. Leachman appeared on the stage and called the delegates to order. This was after the Utah State band had dis-

McCALL TO BE SUED FOR MONEY CONTRIBUTED TO CAMPAIGN FUND.

New York, Oct. 3.—Permission to begin suit against John A. McCall, president, and George W. Perkins, vice president of the New York Life Insurance company, for the restitution of $150,000 contributed to the Republican campaign fund, was asked of Atty. Gen. Mayer today by William Hepburn Russell, acting as attorney for several stockholders. Under the laws of this state the sanction of the attorney general is required in order to bring a suit of this character. Mr. Russell said the suit would be based on the contention that the money paid to the National Republican committee was expended by McCall and Perkins without corporate authority. He declared that he intended also to sue for the restitution of $235,000 which Mr. McCall testified had been placed in the hands of Andrew Hamilton of Albany. The policyholders represented by Mr. Russell are Walter Goodyear, Lemuel D. Lilly and William B. Winslow.

speech Col. M. M. Kulgan moved the appointment of the usual committees, which was duly seconded and carried. The committees named were as follows:

Committee on Credentials—W. J. Moore, Alva Stout, Joseph E. Mullett, P. Higginbotham, M. L. Kibbel. Committee on Permanent Organization and Order of Business—H. S. Tanner, John De Gray Dixon, T. L. Irvine, A. B. Irvine, Willard Hanson. Committee on Platform and Resolutions—W. S. Naylor, E. J. Eardley.

WILLIAM J. LYNCH.

Who Will Be the Republican Standard-Bearer in the Coming Municipal Campaign.

couraged patriotic airs, both on the street and in the hall. Order was restored exactly at 10:12, when J. Parley White, secretary of the city committee, read the call and Chairman Leachman introduced as temporary officers of the convention Judge J. E. Frick as chairman, and S. C. Wing as secretary.

The morning session of the convention was by no means well attended, there being less than one-third of the delegates present at the opening hour. During its progress, however, delegates came tripping in one by one, and when an adjournment was taken till 1 o'clock the showing was fairly respectable and augured well for a full house this afternoon.

As usual, there was a good deal of canvassing for certain candidates, and it was plain to be seen that the convention would develop a number of interesting contests for city offices.

There was no attempt to decorate the hall, the only evidence of this being two large American flags suspended from the second balcony, and one covering the chairman's table.

JUDGE FRICK'S SPEECH. In the course of his remarks Chairman Frick said: "Fellow Republicans, I thank you for the honor conferred upon me by selecting me as your temporary chairman. I consider it an honor to preside over this convention, over a Republican convention. The Republican party always stands for what our glorious flag represents. It stands for these principles here and now the same as everywhere. It has been said by some that we have been following the wrong wagon but we have not yet discovered our mistake. They must give us the credit for being honest in our convictions even though some people think we are following the wrong financial procession.

In Republican party always stands for justice and equal rights to all, so we struggle with all wrongs and overcome them. You may go down to defeat but you are not vanquished. It is only a year ago that you were called upon to support the Republican party and how you responded throughout this great nation is now a matter of history. There is no reason why you should not stand for these principles this year. As to Salt Lake City, you must use great care and be true to your duty and make this the queen city of the principles of your party and your flag and stand by them.

"I do not believe that our friends in the American party endorse the many things said about us and I entreat you American citizens should be treated, but stand by your convictions. I ask with conditions as men and grapple deliberately and confer with each other and then do your duty as American citizens and as it should be done."

COMMITTEES NAMED. At the conclusion of Judge Frick's

A Disastrous Fire at Montpelier, Idaho.

A Large Portion of the Western Part of Town Has Been Destroyed by Flames—Started in a Dance Hall and Bowling Alley, but Origin is Not Known—List of the Burned Buildings—Little Insurance.

(Special to the "News.") Montpelier, Ida., Oct. 3.—The most disastrous fire in the history of this city occurred this morning, destroying a large portion of the western part of town, and creating a loss in property which will total well up into the thousands of dollars. There is but little insurance, most of the losses falling upon the shoulders of the business men. The largest building destroyed is that owned by Lewis Bros. of Pocatello, which was until recently occupied by the Consolidated Wagon company.

How the fire broke out is a mystery. It started in the building occupied by the Oakley Dance hall and Hansen bowling alleys at 1:30 o'clock this morning and soon spread to adjacent structures. There is no fire department, but a hearty response to the alarms was rendered by all citizens. Bucket brigades were organized and they utilized force pumps and the railroad company's depot pumps. Shortly after daylight the flames were extinguished.

Among the destroyed buildings were the following: Large frame building occupied by Oakley Dance hall, Hansen bowling alleys, Cement Building Block Manufacturing company, and Stanger and company, dealers in sporting goods. No insurance except on the stock and fixtures of Stanger and company. Store and stock of Hughes' Gent's Furnishing and Grocery company, Prill and Janel's restaurant, Barknall's barber shop, fixtures removed. Weddell and Huggart's saloon, fixtures partly removed. Two buildings owned by Mrs. Macklin, one vacant, the other occupied by Reception saloon. One frame dwelling, belonging to E. Strong, goods partly removed. No lives were lost, but in fighting the fire one man was struck by a falling timber and his ribs were broken. Slight burns were frequent but none were serious.

WAS A WOMAN IN H. LEONARD CASE.

His Sister Says Her Brother Was Simply Victim of a Wall Street Man.

ABRAHAM LEVY TO DEFEND HIM

Declares There Was No Criminal Intent And Whole Affair Was a Foolish Boyish Escapade.

New York, Oct. 3.—Miss Katherine Leonard, sister of Harry A. Leonard, the young man who confessed to the theft of more than $250,000 worth of securities from the National City bank, declared today that young Leonard was the victim of another man and that he was trying to protect the man and a woman. Miss Leonard declared that she had given the woman's name to the police and that she believed the unretained portion of the securities was placed in a safe deposit vault by the woman. Miss Leonard said:

"There was a woman interested in my brother and he was interested in her. I want to say that my brother was simply the victim of a Wall Street man, who, knowing his innocence, imposed upon him. My brother is now trying to protect this man, but I, my father and mother and other friends will not have it so.

In protecting the man he also is protecting a woman. When the police came here they found the facts just as I have given them to you and they also found $100,000 worth of the stocks in a safe deposit vault where they had been placed by this woman, I believe.

"I don't know the name of the man who has used Harry as his tool, but I do know the name of the woman."

Miss Leonard denied the contention that part of the securities were found in the Leonard home.

Lawyer Abraham Levy has been retained to defend Leonard. After a long talk with the prisoner, Mr. Levy said he was satisfied that there was no criminal intent on young Leonard's part and that the whole affair was a foolish, boyish escapade.

"When the young man is arraigned," said Mr. Levy, "I will make the contention that there was no criminal intent and think I will be able to convince the court of that fact."

EFFORTS TO SAVE THE ALAMEDA ARE NOT ABANDONED

San Francisco, Oct. 3.—The steamer Alameda remains on the rocks at Fort Point, but efforts to save her have not been abandoned. The sea is perfectly calm and there is no immediate danger of the vessel going to pieces. Her caspious oil tanks have been emptied of their contents and are being pumped full of air. This is expected to exert a lifting force sufficient to raise 600 tons deadweight and when the cargo and water remaining in the hull have been removed the steamer may be floated. The wreck having been turned over to the underwriters, the work of salvage is now in charge of Captains Pillsbury and Metcalf, representing, respectively, the British and American insurance companies interested. About two-thirds of the cargo, which already has been recovered, is in good condition and will be sent to Honolulu on the steamer Nevada.

JOHN MITCHELL HAS INTERVIEW WITH PRESIDENT

Washington, Oct. 3.—John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, had an interview with President Roosevelt today by appointment. He remained with the president about half an hour. At the conclusion of his interview Mr. Mitchell said he had come to Washington to see the president not at the latter's invitation, but of his own volition, to talk with him about a personal matter. Pressed for information as to the nature of his mission, he said that he had urged the president to appoint Louis Hamerling, editor of the official organ of the United Mine Workers, as collector of internal revenue for the Scranton, Pa., district. He declined to indicate whether the appointment would be made or not. Hamerling is opposed by some members of the Pennsylvania congressional delegation.

"I did not discuss with the president the labor situation in the anthracite coal fields," said Mr. Mitchell. "My business with him was purely on this personal matter."

CASSIE CHADWICK BOBS UP SERENELY

Her Petition for a Writ of Error Comes Up Before Court of Appeals at Cincinnati.

IN JAIL AWAITING DECISION

If It Goes Against Her, She Will Begin Serving Sentence—If in Her Favor May Be Prosecuted Again.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 3.—The petition for a writ of error for Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, charged with bank wrecking and convicted at Cleveland, O., of conspiracy to defraud, was at the head of the calendar of the United States circuit court of appeals, which opened here today. The record of the case is one of the most voluminous ever brought to this court. Mrs. Chadwick was convicted on seven of the 15 counts in the indictment and her attorneys, Dawley and Wing, brought to use the court of appeals on a writ of error, alleging that the trial court had erred in various particulars, that the alleged offense is not a crime under any statute of the United States, petitioning for a new trial. This case probably has attracted as wide attention as any other that has been in the courts. Large sums of money were said to have been secured by Mrs. Chadwick on insufficient security from the Oberlin (Ohio) bank and other institutions. The wrecking of the Oberlin bank was such a severe blow to its president, C. W. Beckwith, that he died soon after the discovery and exposure of the fraud. Mrs. Chadwick is now in the Cuyahoga county jail awaiting the decision of the United States circuit court of appeals. If the decision is against her she will at once begin her sentence of 10 years in the Ohio penitentiary and a prosecution in the state courts on other indictments. She is charged with the clearing of the charges made in the federal court indictments.

Judges Lureton, Severance and Richards were on the bench when the case was called. Atty. Dawley at once began an argument in support of the petition of Mrs. Chadwick. Dist. Atty. J. J. Sullivan of Cleveland was present to contest the petition.

The car and most of its contents are a total wreck. There was considerable delay between shots. When the work was going on the train was stopped and the passengers were ordered to get out. The first shot was fired, a number of the passengers attempted to go forward to witness operations but their movements were halted by fire from revolvers.

A high bank was at the east of the train and the waters of Puget Sound were up to the track on the west side. The bandits worked alongside the train on the west side. Their bullet holes through the baggage car all struck it diagonally.

The head brakeman started back down the track. Several shots were fired at him, but he extinguished his lantern and kept going. He thinks he had gone half a mile when he was hit and was instructed to return to the train by one of the bandits who had been stationed back of the wreck. Conductor Grant managed to leave the train in spite of the hail of bullets. He extinguished his light and remained where he could observe operations, but he was unable to proceed toward the scene the trainmen attempted to tap the wire to report and this caused further delay. No attempt was made to rob the passengers, most of whom were panic-stricken throughout the ordeal.

Two young fellows about 19 who claim to have been stealing a ride on the blind baggage car when the train was held up in jail here. They were brought up on the train. They give their names as Frank Alfred and Roland Gibbs. They say that they assisted one of the bandits to get on the overland at Interbay, where it slowed up. They say they were ordered to get back aboard the train when the robbers began their work and the bandits showed guns in their faces. Railroad Detective Ryan says he believes one of them is "Babe" Little, a character well known to the Seattle police.

Frank McCallister, formerly of Ellensburg and Tacoma, was a passenger. Mr. McCallister says that after the hold-up one of these young fellows went through a number of the passengers by passing his hat. He went from passenger to passenger exclaiming "come pass me out; all same hold-up anyway." While all of the passengers did not contribute, some of the panic-stricken men did. McCallister says he saw one woman who left the train

Richard Clarkson Dead. Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 3.—Richard Clarkson, pension agent for Iowa and Nebraska, and for 20 years manager of the Iowa State Register, died today in this city. He was one of the best known men in the state and with his brother, J. S. Clarkson, collector of the port of New York, was actively engaged in Iowa journalism for 40 years.

HUNGARIAN SITUATION. King Emperor Receives Various Ministers to Discuss Question. Vienna, Oct. 3.—The king-emperor today received the Austrian premier, Baron Fejervary, and the Austrian minister of the interior, M. Kristoffin, in special audience in connection with the Hungarian situation. Subsequently, Mr. Lanyi, the Hungarian minister of justice, was summoned to the palace. The audience of the ministers lasted three hours and was largely devoted to discussion of the scheme for universal suffrage. His majesty postponed his decision but as the Hungarian ministers are remaining it is expected this will not be greatly delayed.

ROSENFELD'S ASSETS. They Are Ordered Into the Hands of a Receiver. Chicago, Oct. 3.—A new upheaval occurred today over the affairs of the Western Life Insurance Indemnity company, when the assets of the E. I. Rosenfeld, general manager of the Western Life, were ordered placed in the hands of a receiver. The action was taken in the federal court by Judge S. H. Bethea, who named as the receiver Edwin C. Day. Rosenfeld was charged in a bill filed in court yesterday with being a "trafficker in and wrecker of life insurance companies for his own personal profit and with an utter disregard for the rights of policyholders."

GREAT NORTHERN OVERLAND HELD UP

Torpedo on Track First Drew Engineer's Attention to Trouble and Looked Round and Saw Gun.

SAFE DYNAMITED THREE TIMES

Amount Secured Not Known—Passengers Were Not Molested—Express Car a Wreck.

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 3.—An Everett special to the Ledger says:

The Great Northern overland due here at 9:29 Monday night reached Everett at 12:15 o'clock this morning. The delay was caused by one of the boldest holdups in the history of railroading on the Pacific coast. The hold-up occurred just south of the brick yard near Ballard, which is located near the 10 miles post.

Three dynamite shots were put into the through safe, the robbers working until 2:30 o'clock before they finished the job. They worked over an hour and a half. Most of the contents of the through safe were secured. Express Messenger Anderson says he does not know how much they obtained, but says they left some of its contents in the wreckage. The local safe was not touched.

No one was injured seriously, although a continual fire of revolvers was kept up. Stories differ as to the number of robbers engaged in the job. There were at least three. There may have been four or even more.

A torpedo on the track first attracted Engineer Calder's attention. Then another torpedo exploded, and then a third light was swung over the track. The train caused the engineer some apprehension as the track near the brick yard was a dangerous place. A torpedo on the track first attracted Engineer Calder's attention. Then another torpedo exploded, and then a third light was swung over the track. The train caused the engineer some apprehension as the track near the brick yard was a dangerous place.

While the robbers were engaged on the safe, the two boys who had been riding on the blind baggage car slipped off and went through the train, attempting to hold up the passengers. They had no guns, but took advantage of the confusion and snatched a suitcase. A great deal of damage was done to the contents of the car by the force of the discharge of dynamite.

While the robbers were engaged on the safe, the two boys who had been riding on the blind baggage car slipped off and went through the train, attempting to hold up the passengers. They had no guns, but took advantage of the confusion and snatched a suitcase. A great deal of damage was done to the contents of the car by the force of the discharge of dynamite.

While the robbers were engaged on the safe, the two boys who had been riding on the blind baggage car slipped off and went through the train, attempting to hold up the passengers. They had no guns, but took advantage of the confusion and snatched a suitcase. A great deal of damage was done to the contents of the car by the force of the discharge of dynamite.

While the robbers were engaged on the safe, the two boys who had been riding on the blind baggage car slipped off and went through the train, attempting to hold up the passengers. They had no guns, but took advantage of the confusion and snatched a suitcase. A great deal of damage was done to the contents of the car by the force of the discharge of dynamite.

While the robbers were engaged on the safe, the two boys who had been riding on the blind baggage car slipped off and went through the train, attempting to hold up the passengers. They had no guns, but took advantage of the confusion and snatched a suitcase. A great deal of damage was done to the contents of the car by the force of the discharge of dynamite.

While the robbers were engaged on the safe, the two boys who had been riding on the blind baggage car slipped off and went through the train, attempting to hold up the passengers. They had no guns, but took advantage of the confusion and snatched a suitcase. A great deal of damage was done to the contents of the car by the force of the discharge of dynamite.

While the robbers were engaged on the safe, the two boys who had been riding on the blind baggage car slipped off and went through the train, attempting to hold up the passengers. They had no guns, but took advantage of the confusion and snatched a suitcase. A great deal of damage was done to the contents of the car by the force of the discharge of dynamite.

MEDALS FOR UTAH.

Wins First Prize for Best Collective Exhibit at Portland Fair.

The state of Utah has won more honors at the Portland exposition. A message from Director General Spencer Clawson to Governor Cutler, received during the day, announced that the jury of awards had awarded a gold medal to this state for the best collective mineral exhibit, concentrating mill and assay balances.

In addition to this, the state carried off second honors and received the silver medal prizes for its display of hydro carbons, gypsum, plaster products and common salt. For the exhibits of fire clay, kaolin and coal, Utah was awarded the bronze medal.

The jury has not yet reported its decision, Director Clawson stated in his message, on the educational exhibit.

at Everett give some money. He thinks the two obtained $15 to $20 in this manner. The baggage car is a mass of wreckage. Great holes are blown through the side on which the safe and are through the roof, and it is filled with an indiscriminate mass of wrecked contents of wrecked trunks, fresh fish and other things usually carried on a baggage car.

Former State Representative Von Halsderbeke was a passenger. He had a dog in the baggage car, but the animal was apparently uninjured. The wrecked car was taken through with the train. A train left Everett with the express, and detectives immediately after the passenger passed through. The robbers were masked. There is a theory here which is given considerable credence that they came up from Seattle in a launch and went back in the launch immediately after the robbery. Some of the passengers on the train say they saw the lights as of some craft and that soon after the robbers left the lights disappeared.

CONDUCTOR GRANT'S REPORT. Portland, Or., Oct. 3.—Conductor Grant's report of the hold-up shows that at least seven men were engaged in the robbery. The conductor believes there were other men further down the track but they did not take any part, possibly because the train had been stopped too soon. Conductor Grant says one or two of the robbers got on the train either at Ballard or Seattle.

Half a mile east of Mile Post 19 the engineer was ordered to stop. As the train slowed down, four men, all masked, came out of the brush and ranged alongside the engine. They marched down the track shooting to ward the rear to warn the passengers to stay inside.

The robbers compelled the engineer and fireman to leave their cab and accompany them to the door of the baggage car. An order was given to open the door, and the man in charge, Charles Johnson, obeyed.

Inside the car the men produced dynamite and attacked the safe. A guard was left outside to keep the passengers in a state of terror by continuing the fusillade. The men inside the baggage car were evidently bunglers at the job for they used three charges of dynamite to break open the safe. The iron chest was entirely ruined and the floor of the baggage car was badly damaged by the force of the explosion.

A great deal of damage was done to the contents of the car by the force of the discharge of dynamite. While the robbers were engaged on the safe, the two boys who had been riding on the blind baggage car slipped off and went through the train, attempting to hold up the passengers. They had no guns, but took advantage of the confusion and snatched a suitcase. A great deal of damage was done to the contents of the car by the force of the discharge of dynamite.

While the robbers were engaged on the safe, the two boys who had been riding on the blind baggage car slipped off and went through the train, attempting to hold up the passengers. They had no guns, but took advantage of the confusion and snatched a suitcase. A great deal of damage was done to the contents of the car by the force of the discharge of dynamite.

While the robbers were engaged on the safe, the two boys who had been riding on the blind baggage car slipped off and went through the train, attempting to hold up the passengers. They had no guns, but took advantage of the confusion and snatched a suitcase. A great deal of damage was done to the contents of the car by the force of the discharge of dynamite.

While the robbers were engaged on the safe, the two boys who had been riding on the blind baggage car slipped off and went through the train, attempting to hold up the passengers. They had no guns, but took advantage of the confusion and snatched a suitcase. A great deal of damage was done to the contents of the car by the force of the discharge of dynamite.

While the robbers were engaged on the safe, the two boys who had been riding on the blind baggage car slipped off and went through the train, attempting to hold up the passengers. They had no guns, but took advantage of the confusion and snatched a suitcase. A great deal of damage was done to the contents of the car by the force of the discharge of dynamite.

While the robbers were engaged on the safe, the two boys who had been riding on the blind baggage car slipped off and went through the train, attempting to hold up the passengers. They had no guns, but took advantage of the confusion and snatched a suitcase. A great deal of damage was done to the contents of the car by the force of the discharge of dynamite.

While the robbers were engaged on the safe, the two boys who had been riding on the blind baggage car slipped off and went through the train, attempting to hold up the passengers. They had no guns, but took advantage of the confusion and snatched a suitcase. A great deal of damage was done to the contents of the car by the force of the discharge of dynamite.

HALF HOLIDAY CROWDS THE FAIR

Closing of Salt Lake Business Houses at Noon Causes Great Throng at Exposition.

TURNSTILES ARE KEPT GOING.

Let 5,000 Through Yesterday, but Many More Will Pass Through Today And Tonight.

WEBER COUNTY DAY TOMORROW.

What Deseret News Men See in Looking Over Various Exhibits—Prospects Are for Big Success.

TOMORROW'S PROGRAM.

Weber county day. Opening of the dog show. Free attractions at 2 p. m. Concert by Held's band. Horse races. Evening—Free attractions illuminated.

Salt Lake migrated to the banks of the Jordan this afternoon and by 3 o'clock it looked as though the record for previous fair attendances would be smashed.

Yesterday the turnstiles registered close on to 5,000 visitors. When the fact that the ticket choppers did not get into action until 11 a. m. and that a number of people in vehicles passed through the east gate which has no turnstiles, it can safely be said that the attendance on the initial day did not fall very short of 6,000. In other words a record was established, and on a Monday at that.

President J. G. McDonald is elated over the outlook. With a run of six days in place of the five that heretofore have constituted the life of previous state fairs the coffers of the D. A. and M. society should be filled to overflowing this year. Then, too, it must be taken into consideration that the change of admission state fair through-out the country that does not count that amount for admission. You may not believe it but nevertheless it is a fact that the management of this year's sporting season is $2,500 less than that of the previous year, which on a basis of an average daily attendance of 6,000 will net an additional $3,600 for the treasury—more than sufficient to pay for the good free attractions.

THE OUTLOOK.

In speaking of the outlook this morning Supervisor Lester D. Freed, who was out bright and early, said: "Things look pretty good. We are charging 35 cents this year because it is more than worth the money. Really, it is a 50 cent show and I do not know of a representative state fair throughout the country that does not charge that amount for admission. You may not believe it but nevertheless it is a fact that the management of this year's sporting season is $2,500 less than that of the previous year, which on a basis of an average daily attendance of 6,000 will net an additional $3,600 for the treasury—more than sufficient to pay for the good free attractions."

By eight o'clock this morning there were exhibitors on the grounds putting finishing touches on their stalls, while the hostesses were putting the track with their steeds putting them through their paces and getting them into condition for this afternoon's big races.

As early as 9 o'clock people began to arrive so as to get the benefit of the freshness of the fair and the absence of the crowds that are scheduled for later in the day.

Yesterday afternoon everything went off without a hitch and the old familiar sound of the barkers and spellers permeated the atmosphere. Hundreds stood breathless and watched the one-legged bicyclist, K. L. Patrick, ride down the long flight of steps and daring death on the big incline by standing up in an automobile as it went to the top, turned around and descended.

THE ART EXHIBIT. While there is plenty to enthrall and thrill at the fair those who prefer art to music and daredevil stunts can spend a very profitable hour in the gallery in the manufacturers' building. While the light is not all that can be desired, nevertheless all the pictures hang on the walls with satisfaction providing the critic maneuvers for the right angle.

The showing made by the Utah artists is a very dignified and creditable one, among the exhibitors being L. Green Richards, "Hen" Young, James T. Harwood, John Hafen, H. L. A. Culmer, Donald Beauregard, Dan Wegeland and others.

Quite a number of pictures which have been hung in the Salon, Paris, and have received favorable comment at the hands of the critics are on view. Among the offerings by Richards is a portrait of a young sculptor friend of his in Paris, which was hung on the line in the Salon. He also shows two moonlight scenes and an English water color landscape, a composition full of dignity and one bringing out a beautiful richness of greens.

What was characterized as being one of the finest pieces of drawing by any man in Utah by one of the judges this morning is a small study of an artist reading a paper in his studio, from the brush of Mr. Young. To the average individual it appears to be a clear conception of the actual existence of a man transferred to canvas. The posture is very faithfully realized. Mr. Young also shows the only panel figure ever exhibited together with a panel drawing of a section of Rue Faigallier, Paris, a red chalk drawing of a man asleep and a water color street scene and a landscape.

James T. Harwood also has a Salon

SIX PEOPLE BURNED TO DEATH IN A SMALL CABIN

Edmonton, W. Va., Oct. 3.—Mrs. J. Algeo and her three children, and Mrs. Joseph Cardell and one child were burned to death in a cabin here last night. The charred bodies can be seen in the smoking ruins. The husbands of the women escaped.